

Jewell Van Acker

May 17, 2021

ELA Personal Narrative

The Covid 19 Pandemic

Have you ever breathed in your own carbon dioxide for five hours? Well let me tell you, that is no way for a student to learn at school.

First, I had mixed feelings about returning to school. I didn't know whether to feel excited or upset. I was so overwhelmed with all the new rules our school had. I knew it was going to be tough, but I also knew that I would see all of my friends' familiar faces. So I confidently prepared myself for the new Covid-19 school year at Greenville Learning Center.

Before I entered the school's front doors, it felt a little weird and silly to have my temperature checked while breathing through a mask. The hardest part about school was breathing through my mask during P.E. I felt so defeated and tired. Thank goodness that was at the end of each day and we were allowed to drink our water and rest for a bit. Even though P.E. was tough, I still enjoyed school. Especially, since my mom is my teacher this year. We had many laughs while learning new things.

Next year, I hope everything will go back to normal so we never have to breathe our own carbon dioxide again!